Aer Arann announce NEW Sunday flight to Dublin

Service commences 7th of January 2008

and offers passengers more flexibility with a choice of four flights to Dublin on a Sunday

Kerry Airport also announced FREE WiFi Access

Kerry Airport announced this week that Aer Arann will operate a new, fourth Kerry / Dublin flight every Sunday from 7th of January 2008. This new flight will depart Dublin (RE 259) at 1030am and arrive in Kerry at 1125am; and then depart from Kerry (RE 258) at 1155am, arriving in Dublin at 1255pm. For bookings visit www.aerarann.com or telephone 0818 210 210.

Basil Sheerin, Financial Controller, Kerry Airport:

This fourth new Sunday flight will offer even greater flexibility to both in-bound and out-bound Kerry / Dublin passengers. Presently, there is no Sunday morning flight from Dublin into Kerry, so this new service will accommodate those wishing to return from the Capital earlier on a Sunday. Of course, it will also prove very popular with those who want to fly to Dublin to attend a match or other sporting / entertainment event, giving them the choice of the current 9.00am* departure and from January 7th the new 1155am departure."

Kerry Airport has also confirmed even more good news for the New Year! From January, there will be FREE WiFi (provided by Eircom) at the Airport. So...passengers can arrive early, relax and enjoy some refreshments and use their laptops / PDA's to check emails and surf the net!!!

Kerry Airport currently has four daily direct flights to Dublin; daily flights to London Stansted; three times' weekly flights to London Luton; four times' weekly flights direct to Manchester and Frankfurt Hahn. The Airport also offers weekly Summer sun charter series direct to Majorca with Falcon / JWT and a Summer sun charter series with Slattery's Sun. Kerry Airport won the prestigious Irish Airport of the Year in 2005 from the CCI and was recently declared as the first Heartsafe Airport in Ireland by the Irish Heart Foundation.
